

Dr Ed Briggs – Medical Education Leaders UK - Council Officer

Ed trained and worked in the West Midlands for much of his career. He is currently a consultant Anaesthetist in Queen's Hospital, Burton, part of the University of Derby & Burton NHS Foundation Trust.

Educationally, he has been a Foundation Training Programme Director, ACCS Training Programme Director and Director of Medical Education. He was lead Director of Medical Education in the West Midlands for several years before joining the East Midlands Deanery as an Associate Dean; with a portfolio covering education and training with a focus on fellowships, study leave, technology enhanced learning, leadership and faculty development.