

Catherine has been a Consultant Rheumatologist, with a special interest in paediatric and adolescent rheumatology, at Lewisham and Greenwich NHS Trust since 2006. She has undertaken a variety of roles within the Trust, supporting both undergraduate and postgraduate education, culminating in her appointment as the Director of Medical Education in December 2018. External to her Trust roles, she spent 3 years seconded to the Royal College of Physicians as their Careers' Officer and she is a regular examiner for membership of the Royal College of Physicians