

Prof Helen Steed graduated and trained in Dundee before moving to the West Midlands for higher specialty training as a gastroenterologist. She is an active educational supervisor, has been Foundation Programme Director before becoming Clinical Tutor and later taking on a Faculty Development lead role for the West Midlands School of Medicine. Currently she is Director of Postgraduate Medical Education for the Royal Wolverhampton NHS Trust and Walsall Healthcare NHS and West Midlands Lead DME.